Polls Very Revealing

Whatever generation gaps may exist apparently are not nearly as extensive as some would believe. The vast majority of young people, both in colleges and junior and senior high schools, tend to view the nation's problems much in the same light as their parents.

What the young people are really thinking has been revealed graphically by two of the most extensive polls ever made of student opinion. The Carnegie Commission on Higher Education surveyed 160,000 undergraduates, graduate students and faculty members on 300 college and university campuses, and Scholastic Magazines conducted a poll of 57,000 junior and senior high school students at 2,000 schools.

More than 70 per cent of the college students and faculty were satisfied with the quality of education they were receiving, and a larger majority agreed that "students who disrupt the functioning of a college should be expelled or suspended."

Similar results came from the younger students. Nearly 80 per cent believed that anyone who burned the American flag should be arrested, and three-fourths were opposed to the elimination of grades.

Air and water pollution are the most pressing problems, in the students' view, and they rate drug abuse as more important than Vietnam. Crime, in their opinion, is a more serious problem than inflation or poverty.

All these attitudes coincide with opinions expressed in adult polls, indicating that any communication gap may be merely a matter of discovering that people are much alike in their attitudes, whatever their ages. - Monroe (La.) News-Star

Enough Progress

Progress is wonderful, we guess, but man can only stand so much of it. Consider the suggestion two economics professors have made for improving things.

What they want to do is abandon the April 15 date for filing federal - and perhaps even state - income tax returns. They point out that it is inefficient for everyone to file during the same three months: That justs overloads the Internal Revenue Service at one season while presumably leaving it without enough work to do the rest of the time. Why not, they ask, spread the 70 million returns more evenly over the months?

A simple way to handle it, they suggest, would be for each person to file on his birthday. But we wonder. Apart from the problem that would raise with husbands and wives with different birthdays but joint returns, and the confusion it would bring to banks and businesses that already have enough trouble issuing the proper forms once a year, there is the psychological impact of it.

After all, for too many of us who are a bit beyond the bloom of youth, birthdays are painful enough already. This is one bit of progress we'll do without, thank you just the same professors. - Charlotte (N.C.) News

Revenues Are Up by Over $4 Million

LITTLE ROCK (AP)—A report by the state Revenue Department says general revenues increased more than $4 million for March 1971 over the same period last year, but the director of the state Administration Department said the increase "is not as encouraging as it might be."

Dr. Max Milam explained that the cigarette tax almost doubled for March because of cigarette vendors buying up large quantities of cigarettes before the new five-cent-a-pack tax increase went into effect.

The increase for March was the largest monthly increase registered in the first nine months of the current fiscal year.

Vietnamese Retake Base Near Laos

By ROBERT TUCKMAN
Associated Press Writer

SAIGON (AP) — South Vietnamese troops have reoccupied embattled Firebase No. 6 near the Laotian frontier, the Saigon command announced today. Military sources said the two days of savage fighting took a high toll in South Vietnamese casualties.

These sources said more than half of the 350 South Vietnamese defenders were killed or wounded when an estimated 2,000 North Vietnamese stormed the base Wednesday and drove the two Saigon companies out.

Lt. Col. Le Trung Hien, spokesman for the South Vietnamese command in Saigon, announced that South Vietnamese reinforcements reoccupied the artillery base Thursday afternoon. Apparently the North Vietnamese had pulled out; Hien said the reinforcements made no contact with enemy troops in moving back into the base.

Hien said the Saigon troops on their return found the bodies of 280 North Vietnamese in and around the base, which is in the jungled central highlands six

After Heated Debate Over War Extension of Draft Is Passed

By JIM ADAMS
Associated Press Writer

WASHINGTON (AP) — After three days of debate dominated by criticism of the Indochina war and Lt. William Calley's conviction in the My Lai massacre, the House has approved a two-year draft extension paving the way for President Nixon's all-volunteer army.

The draft package was sent to the Senate on a 293 to 99 vote Thursday night, after the two-vote defeat of an amendment to extend the draft just one year to June 30, 1972.

The measure also carries a $2.7-billion pay boost to attract military volunteers, authorizes the President to abolish student deferments as of April 23, 1970, and abolish the civilian service requirement for conscientious objectors from two years to three years but allows them to work in private hospitals as well as government agencies.

Senate strength for a one-year draft extension is likely to gain muscle as a result of the narrow 200-198 House vote against it.

A House amendment against requiring any man drafted after the first of the year to serve in Indochina was rejected 260-to-122.

A proposal by Rep. Sam Gibbons, D-Fla., to ban sending U.S. troops into combat except in time of invasion or declared war was defeated 279 to 97.

A proposal, dedicated to Lt. Calley, to outlaw future prosecution of soldiers for killings during wartime was offered by Rep. John R. Rarick, D-La., and defeated by voice vote.

Rep. Otis G. Pike, D-N.Y., withdrew a proposal to cut the $2.7-billion pay boost back to Nixon's original $987 million request—partly, he said, because of the public outcry over Calley's conviction.

"It is going to make it a little harder to get volunteers to sign up," Pike said, "and so they are going to need every bit of money in the bill."

Pike said another reason for withdrawing the amendment is he believes the Senate will approve only a one-year draft extension.

Everyone Has a Secret Ambition They Won't Tell About to Others

By HAL BOYLE

NEW YORK (AP) — Jumping to conclusions:

One of the ways to rebuild your ego when your life is crumbling around you is to carry a hard-boiled egg in your pocket. When you feel real low, you just reach into your pocket and touch it. There is something about the feel of an egg that gives you a sense of safety. Also, of course, there is the practical fact that you can't starve on a day you have an egg. But you must be sure that it is hard-boiled. Otherwise both the egg and your ego may be accidentally smashed.

There is always a curious sense of disappointment in meeting someone whose penmanship is striking but whose character, you later find, isn't. It is rather like opening a box tied with a beautiful ribbon and finding nothing in it.

The best way to tell the morale of a company is to find out how the other employes feel about the telephone operators. If they don't brag about their telephone operators and claim they are the best in the world, the firm is hardly worth working for.

Everyone has a secret ambition which he hesitates to reveal to others because they would think it ridiculous. Mine is to hear a soprano opera star gargle. I know this doesn't make much sense, but if anyone who reads this has actually heard a live operatic soprano gargle, I would appreciate a note from him—brief and to the point—telling me about it and whether it had had much impact on his life.

Our prejudices, too, are about as quaint as are our secret ambitions. For example, I have never had any interest in pursuing the further aquaintanceship of any man I've seen asking for a second helping of cauliflower. I figure he's too bland for my taste. Offhand, one might think this senseless prejudice may have cost me many rewarding firendships, but I doubt it. You know, you can go for years without seeing anybody ask for more cauliflower.

A realist is a man who refuses to carry a rabbit's foot for good luck, because he realizes that if the foot was really lucky the rabbit would still be wearing it.

People generally try to give the genteel impression that they take a bath every day. Nine out of 10 probably don't —nor do they need to. The world isn't as dirty as it used to be. Except mentally.

God and the devil are curiously linked. One of the more interesting religious oddities of our times is the fact that no one seemed to question whether God was alive until almost everyone had lost faith in the physical existence of the devil. But do we truly need to find a devil to prove a God?

Annual Kiwanis Variety Show on April 16

The 28th consecutive showing of the Annual Kiwanis Variety Show will be unfolded on the Stage of City Hall Auditorium for one performance only on Friday night at 8:00, April 16th.

A gang of hick characters will gather around the front of the Happy Valley Store on that night for an hour or two of corny conversation and to enjoy a group of the finest variety acts ever presented by the Kiwanians.

Mrs. W. H. Peterson, Jr. will again accompany the choruses and some of the specialty acts. Mrs. Delaine Bonds Neece will be back to sing as only she can. This young lady has appeared in every Kiwanis Show since her Junior High School days. The Barber Shop Quartet will be back as will "Luke and Duke". Mr. and Mrs. Jim Hart will be singing together and Mrs. Hart as a soloist. Miss Suzanne Voltz an accomplished dancer will be one of the new attractions. These are just a few of the acts that will provide first class entertainment for this year's show.

As in the past twenty-seven years the entire profits from the Kiwanis Variety Show, advertising, ticket sales, and any other income, will be used for the Kiwanis Youth Programs for our city and for the Kiwanis sponsored Golden Age Club.

Jury Selection Continues

BERRYVILLE, Ark. (AP) — Selection of a jury in the first-degree murder trial of James Wiser, 39, of Green Forest is to continue today.

Eight jurors have been selected since Wednesday. About 80 names have been exhausted in trying to seat a jury.

Wiser is charged in the Dec. 10, 1969 shooting death of Jimmie Lou Rowe, 14, also of Green Forest.

Public Jobs Issue Again Approved

By JOE HALL
Associated Press Writer

WASHINGTON (AP) — A $1.75 billion public service jobs bill similar to one vetoed by President Nixon last year has sailed through the Senate 62 to 10 despite renewed Republican opposition.

The Thursday vote sent the measure to the House where Democratic sponsors hope to clear it to the President later this month.

Republicans opposed to the bill said in the six-hour Senate debate they expect the President will veto it just as he did last December.

However, their efforts to send the bill back to committee or weaken it were turned back by a coalition of Democrats and a few industrial state Republicans.

Democrats contended the bill would provide 150,000 jobs almost immediately if accepted by the administration.

In addition, they said, it would help the states, cities and other local government units meet pressing manpower needs in schools, hospitals, recreation programs, police and fire departments and other services.

Republicans replied the bill will make only a small difference in the near-6-per cent jobless rate.

They also contended most of the jobs will be a deadend, as Nixon argued in vetoing the 1970 measure.

They called instead for passage of the President's special manpower revenue-sharing proposal.

Sen. Gaylord Nelson, D-Wis., chief sponsor of the public service jobs bill and chairman of the Senate Manpower Subcommittee, pledged Nixon's plan will get full consideration. But he said it probably will be next year before both the Senate and House can act.

Meanwhile, he declared, there is an unemployment emergency that Congress has an obligation to try to meet. And, he said the new version of the emergency bill had been altered to try to cover most of Nixon's objections.

Garden Clubs, Members Get Awards

Mrs. Roy Taylor was named chairman of the state junior and intermediate gardeners for 1971-73 at the convention of the Arkansas Federation of Garden Clubs March 30-31 in Hot Springs.

She will fill the position held by Mrs. L.C. Crow for the past two years. Both are active in the Hope Council of Garden Clubs, and Mrs. Crow reported on the work of her group when a business meeting was held during the convention.

At an Awards Luncheon the local Lilac and Gardenia Clubs won a Standard of Excellence, and the Gardenia Club also won a Standard of Excellence with honor and first place for their history book of one year. Mrs. Guy Basye and Mrs. Ned Ray Purtle were co-chairmen for the history book, and the winning clubs are headed by presidents Mrs. David Waddle and Mrs. Roy Taylor.

Several local members of the Federation won prizes at functions during the convention. Mrs. Royce Weisenberger won an imported brass flower container at the luau on Tuesday night; Mrs. L.C. Crow received a Hoover oven broiler rotisserie at the Wednesday breakfast; Mrs. Pauline B. Walker was the recipient of a bottle of Faberge perfume at the Wednesday luncheon.

Those attending from the Lilac Club were Mrs. N.P. Nesbitt, Mrs. Rex Taylor and Mrs. Walker; Mrs. Weisenberger and Mrs. Crow represented the Gardenia Club.

Nixon Order Releasing Calley From Stockage Wins Support of Public

Directive Took Many by Surprise

By KATHRYN JOHNSON
Associated Press writer

FT. BENNING, Ga. (AP) — On Monday Lt. William L. Calley's future was at stake. Tuesday his life was at stake. Wednesday he was spared. Thursday he faced life in prison. Today he was back in his quarters with limited freedom.

Thus ran the drama of the 27-year-old Calley's life during the past five days.

By order of President Nixon, Calley was taken from armed custody behind the barbed wires of the post stockade Thursday and returned to his bachelor quarters.

Only a day after he was sentenced to life imprisonment for murdering 22 Vietnamese civilians at My Lai, the boyish-looking lieutenant was ordered released by the President pending

Jobless Increase in March

WASHINGTON (AP) — Unemployment climbed back up to an annual rate of 6 per cent in March after a two-month decline, the Labor Department announced today.

The figures were not accompanied by an official interpretation by the Bureau of Labor Statistics, under the administration's new policy of handling the monthly announcement, but members of Congress called BLS economists for questioning.

There were 5.2 million unemployed men and women in March, the report disclosed. This was 270,000 fewer than in February, but the decline was less than usual for this season. After allowing for the seasonal adjustment, joblessness rose by 150,000 on the annual basis.

Employment was about unchanged at 78.5 million, seasonally adjusted. Except for a temporary rise in January, total employment has stayed virtually even since last May; it is 500,000 below the record high of March a year ago.

The increase in unemployment occurred largely among teen-agers and those in the 20- to 24-year-old age bracket. Many jobless persons were newly entering the labor force but could not find work.

DeQueen Seeks Gas From La.-Nev. Co.

LITTLE ROCK (AP) — The state Public Service Commission has filed a motion to intervene in the Federal Power Commission's hearing on an application by the city of De Queen to obtain more gas from the Louisiana-Nevada Transit Co. of Ada, Okla.

The PSC took no position in its intervention, but Chairman Pat Moran said the commission had "human needs uppermost in mind."

The city of De Queen buys gas from Louisiana-Nevada and then sells it to customers in De Queen, Mena, Lockesburg and Horatio. De Queen had applied for permission to construct a 14.5 mile pipeline from Okay to the utility's Fulton-Hope lateral line to replace a line the firm says will not withstand additional pressure.

Ratio 100-1 Against Conviction

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

President Nixon's order releasing Lt. William L. Calley Jr. from a stockade pending appeal of his My Lai murder conviction has won widespread public and private support, reflecting the strong sentiment that arose against the verdict.

Announcement of the President's action drew applause and cheers in the House of Representatives Thursday from members who were engaged in a debate on extension of the draft.

Elsewhere there was similar reaction.

Presidential Press Secretary Ronald L. Ziegler had reported thousands of telegrams received by the White House were running 100 to 1 in support of Calley but he said Nixon's order "was taken at the President's own initiative."

Initial reaction in the street seemed to favor the President.

In Oklahoma City some residents staged a 20-car parade down one of the busiest streets during the rush hour with signs reading, "free Calley" and "Calley is Innocent."

In Vietnam the reaction among a sampling of GIs was mixed.

"I don't feel that every military decision should be up for review by the President," said Lt. William O'Neal, 24, of Cleveland, Ohio. "Otherwise, if Nixon wants to judge the case, let him do it straight."

Typical of the GIs favoring the move was Spec. 4 Charles Williams, 20, of Fresno, Calif. He said Nixon "was right in doing it. There must have been someone above Calley responsible for My Lai. And that's the man they should get."

Calley, 27, was convicted Monday by a six-man military jury at Ft. Benning, Ga. of the premediated murder of at least 22 Vietnamese civilians at My Lai in March 1968. He was sentenced Wednesday by the same jury to life imprisonment at hard labor. Appeals are automatic.

He was freed from the Ft. Benning stockade Thursday night while about 75 onlookers applauded. An Army spokesman said he would be kept under "light guard" in his bachelor officer quarters.

The outcry over the verdict began when it was announced Monday and has grown steadily since.

Kindergarten Measure Is Defeated

By ROBERT SHAW
Associated Press Writer

LITTLE ROCK (AP) — The Arkansas Senate defeated an appropriation to provide school districts with a start toward establishing public kindergarten program Thursday but the measure may be considered again.

The $500,000 appropriation for each of the next two fiscal years fell victim to confusion that arose in the Senate as the body hurried to wind up its affairs before a planned two-week recess of the legislature beginning after today's session.

The House, meanwhile, concurred in six noncontroversial Senate amendments to the proposed revenue stabilization act, finishing legislative work on the bill that will determine how revenues will be distributed to the state agencies and institutions in the next biennium.

The House also passed a bill to create a cultural museum at Hot Springs and both houses completed action on a bill that would admit osteopaths to the full practice of medicine and surgery in Arkansas.

The House-approved kindergarten bill, which would make funds available to the school districts on a matching basis, received only 17 favorable votes, one short of approval, when it was brought up in the Senate.

Nineteen senators had been prepared to vote for the bill, but reading clerks failed to hear the "aye" vote of Sen. Ralph Hudson of Harrison and Lt. Gov. Bob Riley would not recognize the favorable vote Sen. Joe T. Ford of Little Rock cast on a "pair"—a device by which a senator who will be absent can cast a vote by signing a statement with another senator who will be present and will be voting on the opposite side.

Riley discounted Ford's vote because Sen. Harold King of Sheridan, with whom Ford was paired, voted "no" orally when his name was called.

The lieutenant governor held that King's oral vote invalidated the pair. In the furor that resulted, the Senate Rules Committee and then the Senate as a whole upheld Riley's ruling.

King, however, kept the bill alive by giving notice of reconsideration — a parliamentary move that could pave the way for another vote. He said he owed supporters of the bill that because of the way the bill had been defeated as a result of his oral vote.

The House approved 75-0 the bill creating an Arkansas Museum and Cultural Commission that would be authorized to issue up to $12 million in tax-free bonds to finance the development of the Hot Springs cultural museum. The commission could pledge for repayment of the bonds up to $500,000 in each fiscal year from money the state earns on investments of state funds.

The House amended the measure to require that the Smithsonian Institution would have to agree to operate the center before the bonds could be issued. Negotiations are underway that could lead to Smithsonian agreement.

The amendment, by Rep. Ode Maddox of Oden, also would set maximum interest rate on the bonds at 8 per cent. It would require a public sale, rather than a negotiated sale, of the bonds.

The bill had been approved Wednesday by the Senate. It was transferred back to the Senate for concurrence in the House amendment.

The House amended the Senate's osteopath bill to put it in a form desired by Gov. Dale Bumpers and then passed it 52-31. In the closing minutes of the Senate's session, Sen. Olen Hendrix of Prescott obtained Senate concurrence in the amendment.

The amendment, authored by Rep. Jesse Hayes of Pocahontas to put the bill in the same form as a House measure defeated twice by the representatives on narrow votes, would more easily qualify osteopaths to practice in Arkansas.

It would permit the licensing of osteopaths to full practice if they had served a one-year internship in a hospital approved by the American Medical Association or a one-year internship within the last five years in a hospital approved by the American Osteopathic Association or if they had served an internship and at least one additional year of postdoctoral training in an AOA-approved hospital.

The Senate bill originally would have permitted osteopaths to practice in Arkansas if they had served their internship at an AMA-approved hospital.

The House refused on a vote of 26-36 to agree to an amendment by Sen. Virgil T. Fletcher of Benton to the Welfare Department appropriation to exempt certain church-owned or operated orphanages and kindergartens from department child care facility regulations.

The amendment would prohibit the Welfare Department from using state funds to enforce the regulations against orphanages or kindergartens that have been in operation for 10 years or more, which receive no federal or state funds and which are owned or operated by churches with at least 25 members.

A three-member conference committee of the House met with Fletcher in an effort to work out a compromise. They decided that another amendment would be offered Friday to say that department money could not be used to regulate church-operated facilities that receive no federal or state funds unless they agree to it.

Fletcher had been unsuccessful earlier in the session in obtaining House enactment of his Senate-passed bills to repeal the child care facility regulations or to limit the department's authority.

The House approved a $90,377 appropriation to buy color transmission equipment for the state educational television station.

The House, in approving the measure, abandoned an amendment it had attached to the Senate bill Wednesday requiring the money to be used to help expand ETV's black and white coverage statewide.

The House amended a Senate bill to increase the travel allowance that would be granted the governor and to reduce the proposed amounts the other constitutional officers could receive for "public relations" expenses.

The amendment would raise the proposed travel allowance for the governor from $7,500 a year to $9,500. It would reduce the public relations allowance of the attorney general from $7,500 to $6,000 and of the lieutenant governor from $7,500 to $5,000.

The amendment also would cut the proposed allowance of the secretary of state, treasurer, auditor and land commissioner from $7,500 to $5,000. The House passed the amended bill 87-0.

The House agreed to a Senate amendment to the appropriation for the Pollution Control Commission to raise the salary of the director from $13,500 to $15,500 a year.

The representatives adopted four amendments to a Senate bill designed to upgrade the standards for chiropractors and to give chiropractors more control over regulating their profession, but defeated a fifth amendment 29-36.

The amendment stated that nothing in the definition of the profession included in the bill was designed to expand or limit the scope of the practice. Rep. Sturgis Miller of Pine Bluff, a chiropractor, said chiropractors opposed the amendment because it tied their profession to a 1915 state statute.

The House voted to approve a bill that would prohibit the sale of Forrest Memorial Hospital in Forrest City without approval of the voters. Rep. Wayne Courtney of Forrest City, sponsor of the measure, said the board of directors of the hospital was negotiating to sell the facility to a private firm.

The Burnhams are thankful to their frineds and customers for making the trip possible.

Rules Woman Entitled to Pay for Work

LITTLE ROCK (AP) — Circuit Judge Warren E. Wood of Little Rock ruled Thursday that Mrs. Connie Alber of Little Rock is entitled to a $1,200 judgment against the American Independent party of Arkansas for her services as its former secretary.

Wood made the decision in Mrs. Alber's suit for $6,500 against the AIP. He had had the case under advisement for attorneys' briefs since hearing testimony Feb. 1.

Mrs. Alber contended that she had held the executive secretary's job 69 weeks, from December 1968 to April 1970, and that she was to be paid $100 a week. She said the party had paid her only $400. She testified that she had told party officials she would work without pay until the party had money in its treasury with which to pay her.

"People primarily work for money but for a short period of time might work from a spirit of loyalty," Wood said. "Compensation is being granted the plaintiff on the theory that she should be paid for a three months' duration. Having worked for three months without pay the court finds that any work performed thereafter was on a purely voluntary basis with no logical reason to believe that she would ever be paid for such services."

the completion of a full review of his conviction by an Army court-martial.

The White House directive took most observers by surprise. The President had once said of the massacre at May Lai that "under no circumstances was it justified."

Announcement of the President's intervention was made at San Clemente, Calif., by Ronald L. Ziegler, White House press secretary.

Ziegler said Nixon had telephoned Adm. Thomas H. Moorer, chairman of the Joint Chiefs of Staff, to direct Calley's release.

The presidential order was not a legal step. Ziegler said.

In response to questions, the press secretary said the President was aware of widespread pro-Calley sentiment that has been expressed in thousands of telegrams to Nixon. But Ziegler added that the action "was taken at the President's own initiative."

Under the President's order, Callfy was granted the status of an Army officer confined to quarters under "light guard." He can go to the laundry, to a movie, to church; but always—even in his quarters—an armed military guard must remain with him.

Calley cannot leave the post without permission. He cannot talk to newsmen. He will be allowed the visit of friends.

He will not be allowed, however, the privileges of the officer's club or to attend official social functions at the post.

Fair, Cooler Weather for Weekend

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

The National Weather Service is predicting a fair, but cooler weekend for Arkansas.

The fair skies moved into the state after the passage of a cold front, which brought showers to the state Thursday.

For the early part of the weekend fair weather will continue with warmer temperatures, but the extended forecast now calls for some renewed shower activity by Sunday.

The highs Thursday ranged from 61 at Harrison to 68 at Little Rock.

Overnight lows were Fayetteville 24; Harrison, 35; Jonesboro, 35; Pine Bluff, 35; Texarkansas, 38; El Dorado, 33; Memphis, 33; Little Rock, 35; and Fort Smith, 32.

Enemy Short of Supplies, Military Says

WASHINGTON (AP) — American military analysts calculate the North Vietnamese have pushed through only about one-sixth of the supplies needed to sustain their forces in South Vietnam and Cambodia until late this year.

According to these assessments the North Vietnamese have moved somewhat more than 4,000 tons of ammunition and other material through the Laotian panhandle from the start of the dry season in mid-October until last week.

The military analysts estimate the North Vietnamese must still send another 20,000 tons along the Ho Chi Minh Trail into South Vietnam and Cambodia before the rains virtually shut off such movements in May.

Israel Is Favorable to Suez Opening

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

Israeli Deputy Premier Yigal Allon gave a favorable response today to Egyptian President Anwar Sadat's new proposal for reopening the Suez Canal.

He warned, however, that "we must arrive at the king of legal arrangement that will not weaken Israel's defense setup in the Sinai desert."

"Egypt has made a proposal for reopening the Suez Canal to international shipping without reaching a full peace treaty, and we should be ready for such a partial treaty," Allon told an Israeli journalists' luncheon.

He recalled that Premier Golda Meir had responded favorably in February to Sadat's first proposal for opening the waterway.

Egypt's Middle East News Agency reported today that Sadat, in a restatement of his position, would agree to a new extension of the cease-fire and reopening of the canal if the Israelis pull back from the waterway and withdraw from part of the Sinai desert. But he said Egyptian troops would move into the territory vacated by Israel, a point that is certain to be strongly opposed by hawks in the Israeli Cabinet. Allon is known as one of the main doves in the government.

Observers in Jerusalem expect the Cabinet to reject the Egyptian plan ultimately unless it is modeified.

The Israeli observers said Egypt's proposal showed it was not interested in negotiating a peace agreement because it was setting conditions unacceptable to Israel.

Israel has consistently rejected any withdrawal without a peace treaty setting boundaries that it considers secure.

The statement of Sadat's views suggested that Egyptian and Israeli forces could be separated by a neutral zone occupied by an international contingent. But he demanded that all Israeli troops leave their positions at the Strait of Tiran, overlooking Israel's southern sea route through the Gulf of Aqaba. Israel is certain to reject this.

Sadat's offer to reopen the Suez Canal was a renewal of a proposal first made in February, when he said Egypt would reopen the canal following a "partial withdrawal" of Israeli forces from Sinai. But the Israeli sources noted that once again the Egyptian statement made no mention of Israeli shipping through the canal, which has been closed to Israel since it was taken over by the Egyptians in 1956.

The Cairo press implied that Sadat's views had been conveyed to President Nixon in a note last month. The Middle East News Agency said Sadat received a written message from Nixon Friday, but it gave no details of its contents.

Meanwhile, Palestinian guerrillas blew up a pipeline that feeds Jordan's only oil refinery and set a section on fire early today.

The Jordanian government reported the explosion ruptured the spur line that carries 12,000 barrels of oil a day from the American-owned Trans Arabian Pipeline to the refinery at Zerka, 15 miles northeast of Amman. Pumping of oil through the main pipeline from Saudi Arabia to the Mediterranean was not affected.

Russia Brags of Power to Hit Anywhere

By MICHAEL JOHNSON
Associated Press Writer

MOSCOW (AP) — Soviet Defense Minister Andrei Grechko told the Communist party congress today that the Soviet army "has in its arsenal a weapon of huge destructive power capable of reaching any point on the globe."

Excerpts of his speech distributed by Tass did not make clear whether Marshal Grechko was referring to some new development or a known weapons system. But he accused the United States of increasing preparations for war and warned that the Soviet Union, if ever attacked, would "punish the aggressor" in his homeland.

Grechko said the United States had tried to assume the role of the world's policeman. He said Washington chose Vietnam "as the bridgehead for its strategy and is waging there a plundering criminal war."

"But," the marshal declared, "Vietnam has become the cemetery of imperialism's military doctrine."

He described Soviet military aid to Vietnam and the Arab states as "disinterested assistance" and an example of Russia's "international duty."

Two leading critics of the "Brezhnev Doctrine" that national Communist parties and governments have only limited sovereignty within the world Communist movement used the congress Thursday as a platform for new appeals for full autonomy for all Communist parties.

miles east of the border. He reported 20 South Vietnamese killed and 25 wounded, but field reports indicated 200 or more South Vietnamese were killed, wounded or missing.

There was no word on the small group of U.S. advisers stationed at the base. Communist broadcasts claimed some U.S. advisers and South Vietnamese troops were taken prisoner.

The South Vietnamese had heavy American air support, including strikes by B52 bombers, fighter-bombers and helicopter gunships. At least two U.S. helicopters were shot down and destroyed.

The attack on Firebase No. 6 was the strongest of a series of assaults this week apparently made in retaliation for the South Vietnamese invasion of Laos.

Elsewhere in South Vietnam, the U.S. and South Vietnamese commands reported only scattered skirmishes.

At Khe Sanh, in the northwest corner of the country near the Laotian frontier, U.S. troops continued dismantling the big base that was used as a staging area for the campaign in Laos.

Several small units of U.S. troops remain at Khe Sanh but are expected to pull out soon.

In Cambodia, Communist forces launched a heavy ground attack against Cambodian troops at the village of Rolous, 48 miles northeast of Phnom Penh.

The Cambodian command in Phnom Penh said government troops counterattacked but added that no details of the fighting were available.

Presbyterians Plan Special Services

Holy Week Services at the First Presbyterian Church will be somewhat different from past years. There will be no Monday night service and the Good Friday Service will be a three hour daytime service.

The Holy week theme, "That Week In Jerusalem" will begin with Palm Sunday Service by the Rev. Jim Sewell as Christ arrives in the Holy City to observe the Passover. On Tuesday night, the Rev. William Risinger of the Episcopal Church will look at the events in early week. On Wednesday, the Rev. Al Butler of the Hope Church of the Nazarenes, will continue the theme as Christ prepares his disciples for the last supper. On Maundy Thursday, communion will be served by the Elders of the church as the congregation of the Nazarene Church will continue to worship with the Presbyterians for this service. All evening services begin at 7:30 p.m. and Christians of all faiths are invited to take part.

Television and Radio

By CYNTHIA LOWRY
AP Television-Radio Writer

NEW YORK (AP) — Good, gruff Chief Robert Ironside was being as efficient as usual on NBC Thursday night, catching the muggers who snatched an old lady's purse that contained jewels worth $200,000.

The mugging was, of course, just the beginning. Ironside also caught a killer and saved the old lady from being dragged through competency proceedings.

Somebody once observed that a recipe for a hit is "Raymond Burr in anything." "Perry Mason" lasted nine years and "Ironside" will move into its fourth season with no signs of waning popularity.

It even appears that "Ironside" is starting a new vogue in police action stories. The gimmick of the show is that the detective has a physical handicap—he is paralyzed below the waist and works efficiently from a wheel chair.

Next season, ABC introduces "Longstreet" with James Franciscus playing an investigator who is blind. "Cannon," starring William Conrad on CBS, is tough private eye who is almost as wide as he is tall and chews candy compulsively.

CBS is showing three pilots for upcoming series in succession. Last week it was "Cannon."

Tonight there will be a two-hour preview of "O'Hara: U.S. Treasury." This series will bring David Janssen back to television, his first involvement since "The Fugitive" found the real killer. Next Friday it will be Rod Taylor in "Powderkeg," spun off into a series but not yet titled. Since both Janssen and Taylor are young and handsome, their problems probably will be girls.

Flip Wilson, in his last show before starting reruns, had Tim Conway as one of his guest stars Thursday night. The hour was full of Flip's way-out but gentle humor. There was Paul Revere, confused about what he should do on his ride. There was the world's richest man switching jobs with a plumber to find happiness, and on and on.

Amidst the laughs there was something of a mystery: How can Conway be so funny on other people's shows when he has such troubles with his own. Conway seems to be one of those born to be a guest star.

The wedding is planned for July 2, at First Baptist Church of Hope.

HELEN HELP US!

by Helen Bottel

HOW DOES A WOMAN PAY THE BILLS?

Dear Helen:

I frequently take my sister and her husband out for dinner, as they have been very kind to me since I became a widow.

But often it ends up the other way around, with the man paying for all of us. This is because the waitress brings him the bill, and if I ask for it, he is embarrassed, and I feel like a fool.

I've tried giving him the money before we enter the restaurant, but he refuses. What can I do? —SINGLE BUT SELF-SUPPORTING

Dear Single:

Make the reservations in your name, and arrange with the manager to pay at the desk, or by credit card. You can also tell the waitress beforehand that you want to sign for the dinners.

A man shouldn't feel embarrassed when a woman offers to pay—but he does, and so she must go to a little extra work, smoothing the way. —H.

Dear Helen:

Our daughter will be married soon. We have planned a nice wedding, but now she springs this on us: After she and the bridegroom leave, she wants her friends to stay on at the reception hall for a dance and beer bust. That means keeping the band for four more hours, providing drinks for a thirsty crowd, not to speak of the cleanup and possible breakage.

We aren't wealthy. Is this fair? —TOO MUCH

Dear T.M.:

No! When the bride and bridegroom make a dash through the rice, the reception should end. —H.

Dear Helen:

My daughter works full time with a take-home pay check of $120 a week. She read in a 10-year-old magazine (where it came from I don't know) that $40 a month was right for at-home room and board. She considers this "high."

Ten dollars a week wouldn't even pay for her food these days. She also expects all her laundry done, comes and goes as she pleases, does no work in the house, and uses the telephone constantly. She is 22, and very picky, causing fights with the younger children.

What would you suggest that wouldn't be "holding her up"? —MOTHER

Dear Mother:

I'd suggest $20 a week minimun, and if she balks, I'd ask "What's holding YOU up? Find an apartment." —H.

Dear Helen:

Referring to your piece on overkill in burglar alarms, we agree with the lady who said you can overdo protection of a private residence. There are certainly companies who take advantage of fear to make a fast buck.

However, most reputable organizations will give you no more protection than you need. For example, a good security system with a hot line to the police and fire department is available for as little as $300.

Installation of an alarm system is no job for an amateur. There is no need to spend thousands of dollars, but most people will sleep better if they have wise protection from intruders. —H. H.

Naming of "Oscar"

The gold statuette, symbolic of the Motion Picture Academy Awards, came to be known as an "Oscar" in 1931. Mrs. Margaret Herrick, then executive secretary of the academy, studying the figure, remarked that it had the square jaw and sharp features of an uncle named Oscar. The name stuck.

Treatment for Dope Addicts Still Unproven

WASHINGTON (AP) — Rejecting requests for major liberalization, the government today reaffirmed its stand that the controversial drug methadone still is an unproven long-term treatment for narcotics addiction.

But two government agencies sanctioned dispension of the drug, used as a substitute for heroin, by individual doctors, a step some major medical advisory groups frown on.

The Food and Drug Administration and the Justice Department's Bureau of Narcotics and Dangerous Drugs set guidelines that must be followed to gain government approval for administering maintenance does of methadone to addicts.

The rules were slightly relaxed from initial ones proposed last June, but retained safeguards some medical groups say are unnecessary and unduly restrictive of scientific investigation.

By contrast, the two agencies' sanction of methadone—dispension by individual physicians was at variance with drug committees of the National Academy of Sciences and the American Medical Association.

They said only clinics or groups of physicians are capable of keeping necessary tabs on methadone programs.

Methadone is a synthetic narcotic that proponents say eliminates the craving for heroin while allowing adicts to function productively in society. Methadone overdoses, however, can be fatal. The government has approved about 275 maintenance programs.

Washington is a major test area for Methadone use. About 2,700 heroin addicts are being treated with the drug under one program.

The Dirty Dribblers Here Tonight

By BILL MOORE
Star Sportswriter

Have you ever heard of the Keel Dirty Dribblers?

They help to raise thousands of dollars every year for various charities and other organizations, and tonight they will help to raise money for another good cause, while playing basketball.

That cause is the Wichita State Football fund, and the basketball game is put on by the Hope High School Key Club.

During the first half, the Womens Independent team will oppose the Keel men and coming out in the second half will be the Key Clubbers.

Keel is led by Larry Ryan, Steve Kelly, Lane Brigham, and Mr. Weather.

Women players will include Muggs Smith, Charlotte Burnett, Mary Fuller, LaDonna Thomason, Helen Ratliff, Lou May, Charlotte Gibson, Dolores McBride, and Velora Bright.

Starting for the Key Club will be Parker Powell at post, Randy Wright and Ronnie Massanelli at guards and Calvin Willis and Bubba Powers at forwards, with Jack Turner, Deacon Jones, Rusty Quillin, and Donny Williams expected to see action.

Hope's Key Club is sponsored by the Kiwanis Club in association with Hope High School. They have helped the Kiwanis promote Farm and city day, while sponsoring several dances and have also been selected to host their division in the Arkansas Key Club convention this year.

Mr. E.P. Young Jr. is the Key Club's Kiwanis advisor, while Mr. Warren Adcock serves as the faculty advisor.

Gametime is at 8:00 p.m. and everyone is urged to come and help the Clubs fine project. It will also be interesting to see how the teams fair against the Dirty Dribblers from Keel.

Frazier Again Cracks Broad Jump Record

By BILL MOORE
Star Sportswriter

For the second time within a week, Hope High trackman Charles Frazier broke the broad jump record.

Last Saturday, Frazier set a new school record at Dequeen with a 20'5¼" hop, and yesterday at Camden he bettered that mark by 2¼" as he leaped 20'7½" to place second.

Right behind Frazier was newcoming track member Darrell Parsons, who placed third with 19'11½" leap, while over at the discus ring, Lyman Norton took fifth.

HHS runners had a fairly rough time, facing obstacles such as cold weather, high winds, and muddy inside lines.

Both the 440 and 880 relay teams finished fourth, while the mile relay placed fifth. Ray Wheelington finished on top in the 180 yard low hurdles with a timing of 22 flat.

Other races included the 440 yard run where James Valentine and Jerry Hamilton both finished fifth in the seperate heats.

While David Johnson placed first in the 100 yard dash and third in the 220 yard dash, Wheelington ran fifth in the 100 and fourth in the 220.

In the 880 yard run, Kenneth Ellis ran a 2:11.0 and Nicky Spellman ran a 2:12.0 as they finished third and fourth respectively.

Down in the junior high division, the 880 relay placed third, with the 440 and mile relays each finishing fourth.

In the 880 yard run, Shelton Cole ran a second place timing of 2:15.0 with Gary Rhodes right behind at a 2:16.0 for fifth place, while Jim Rhodes placed fourth in the 120 yard low hurdles with a 18.0 time.

Larry Johnson and Jimmy Smith each placed third in their seperate heat of the 220 yard dash, while in the 440 yard run, Dexter Flenory and James Martin both ran fifth in their seperate heat with times of 60.5 and 61.5 respectively.

At the broad jump pit, Jimmy Smith jumped 17'10½" to place second, while Terry Smith leaped 17'6" to finish fourth.

This afternoon, providing good weather, the HHS golfers will host Magnolia's A & B teams.

Starting for the varsity will be Jack Turner, Jimmy Pruden, Jerry Pruden, and Tim Hogan while Tim White, Randy Wright, Tim Gunter, and Joe Fouse will play on the B-team.

Barber Tied for Lead at Greensboro

By BOB GREEN
Associated Press Golf Writer

GREENSBORO, N.C. (AP) — Lee Trevino held an eight stroke lead over Gary Player going into today's second round in the $190,000 Greater Greensboro Open Golf Tournament—but was far from confident.

"Eight strokes?" he sniffed, "Man, that's nothing with that little man. I'd feel a lot better about it if it was the lest round and I had eight strokes on him.

"But right now, with him, that's nothing. He can make it up in one day."

Trevino fired a four-under-par 67 in Thursday's first round for a share of the top spot with veteran Miller Barber and New Zealand left-hander Bob Charles.

Player, the doughty little South African who is the defending champion in this tournament and who has won the last two tour events, struggled in with a fat 75, four over par.

Player drove one out of bounds and took a triple bogey seven. He once found the water and had to drop out. And he three-putted four times.

Trevino, Barber and Charles held a one-stroke lead over a group of five tied at 68. They were Australian Bruce Crampton, former Masters champion Art Wall, tour sophomore Jack Lewis, Pete Brown and Dave Eichelberger.

National amateur champ Lanny Wadkins topped a big bunch at 69 and U.S. Open King Tony Jacklin of England had a 70 in spite of a double bogey on his final hole.

Masters champ Billy Casper, just back from an extended vacation, matched Player's 75.

Both must improve to make the 36-hole cut for the final two rounds Saturday and Sunday.

Trevino cut three strokes off par on his last four holes but, in characteristic fashion pointed to a 25-foot par-saving putt on his fourth hole as the key.

Senior Classic Won by West a Third Time

MEMPHIS, Tenn. (AP) — For the third consecutive year, the West has won the East-West Senior All-American Basketball Classic, this time 137-110 in a game of run-and-gun.

The West's 137 points Thursday was the largest winning total in the game's three-year history. It beat by one point the number accumulated by the West squad last year in a 136-121 game. The year before that, it was West 98, East 85.

"They played real well together," said West Coach Bill Russell, who got double figure scoring from seven of his eight players.

"I had a good time coaching them. We were gonna let everybody play and that's what we did. Yes, I would like to come back here and coach another game like this."

Chicago Will Be Playing Without Banks

By KEN RAPPOPORT
Associated Press Sports Writer

Just like money in the bank, the Chicago Cubs never worried about one starter for 17 Opening Days.

But this year will be different—this year Ernie Banks will be missing.

The spirit is willing, but the knees aren't, doctors said Thursday as the Cubs put their gilt-edge slugger on the 21-day disabled list.

The 40-year-old Banks, tortured by arthritic knees, hasn't responded as expected to treatment and workouts this spring.

Banks said his main concern was "not to hurt the club. I don't want to embarass the team, making it look as if the Cubs were playing someone who is hurt."

Banks was the National League's most valuable player in 1958 and 1959 and has a career total of 509 home runs.

Teams continued to pare down for Opening Day, including the Montreal Expos who sold infielder Marv Staehle to Atlanta for an undisclosed sum. The Expos also said that outfielder Adolpho Phillips would be left behind when the club broke camp, to be either sold, traded or assigned to the minor leagues.

Cincinnati got down to the 25-player limit by sending pitchers Pedro Borbon, Pat Osburn and Ross Grimsley to the minors and placing first baseman Lee May on the 15-day disability list and the Chicag White Sox slid to 25 by optioning outfielder Pat Kelly to the minors and selling pitcher John Purdin to Hawaii of the Pacific Coast League.

Orlando Cepeda and Earl Williams uncorked home runs, but the Atlanta Braves needed an infield out and a rundown play in the seventh inning to trim their Richmond farm club 4-2 in Thursday's spring training action.

Larry Dierker and Denny Lemaster checked the New York Yankees on four hits, leading Houston to a 5-0 victory and Juan Marichal gave Milwaukee only one run in seven innings as he pitched the San Francisco Giants to a 4-1 victory in a tune-up for the curtain-raiser next week.

Pinch-hitter Gene Lamont delivered a two-run single in the bottom of the ninth inning, capping a wild, 42-hit affair and handing Detroit a 13-12 victory over Boston.

Billy Williams and Jose Ortiz each had three hits in a 13-hit attack and Jim Colborn, Phil Regan, Earl Stephenson and Ron Tompkins combined on a four-hitter, leading the Chicago Cubs to an 8-0 rout of Cleveland.

A triple by Campy Campaneris and double by Felipe Alou highlighted a four-run eighth that carried the Oakland Athletics to a 4-2 success over the San Diego Padres.

Manny Sanguillen got in two runs in a three-run second inning and Al Oliver contributed a pair of doubles and scored two runs, powering Pittsburgh past Cincinnati 5-40 Mike Hedlund and Jim York pitched a combined four-hitter as Kansas City checked St. Louis 2-0 and Philadelphia rejects Mike Anderson, Greg Goosen and Greg Luzinski collected nine hits as Eugene of the Pacific Coast League beat the parent Phillies 9-7.

Rice Losing Some Grid Prospects

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

New mental and physical requirements on the Rice University football team are causing some defections, but that's not new head Coach Bill Peterson's purpose.

"We don't have enough bodies around to start running people off purposely," Peterson said Thursday concerning 13 scholarship players who have turned in their uniforms at the Owls' spring training camp.

Peterson said he is spending his first spring building mental and physical toughness and confidence. But Peterson said he expected some defections. "You have that anywhere you go," he said.

On the Owls' progress, Peterson said "Defensively we have a good club."

New Pony quarterback Gary Hammond led the No. 1 offense to five touchdowns against the No. 2 defense. Hammond scored once on a run and another on a 61-yard pass to James Lee Robinson. Hammond led first team rushers with 68 yards on 14 carries.

"It was a fine running and defensive scrimmage," said head coach Hayden Fry. "But we'll have to work hard to improve our passing game."

The Mustangs have gone to the wishbone T offense.

TCU Coach Jim Pittman said he could see improvement in his Frogs.

"I feel like the team is coming along," he said. "We've installed a lot of new plays and we're still making mistakes, but hopefully that can be worked out by our spring scrimmage on Saturday."

The Frogs will hold their first full scrimmage Saturday.

Pirates and Reds Again Favorites

By DICK COUCH
Associated Press Sports Writer

NEW YORK (AP) — Pennant potential once again spreads from coast to coast in the National League this spring, but the balance of power still rests somewhere along the Ohio River between Cincinnati and Pittsburgh.

The Reds and Pirates, loaded with long-ball punch, are this corner's picks to beat off a flock of challengers in their division races and then slug it out in an October rematch of the 1970 pennant playoffs.

Cincinnati, a runaway winner in the West last year, scored a three-game knockout over Pittsburgh's East Division shamps in those playoffs, but fell apart against Baltimore in the World Series.

Los Angeles, bolstered by slugger Richie Allen, should give the Reds a run for the money in the West this time around. And Pittsburgh, the choice to repeat in another East dogfight, figures to push them to the five-game limit in the championship series.

But look for the Big Red Machine to overcome a rash of pre-season injuries and grind its way to the top again behind the run-producing wallop of Johnny Bench & Co.

This is how the windup looks from here:

East—1, Pittsburgh. 2, New York. 3, St. Louis. 4, Chicago. 5, Montreal. 6, Philadelphia. West—1, Cincinnati. 2, Los Angeles. 3, San Francisco. 4, Houston. 5, Atlanta, 6. San Diego.

Bench, the league's Most Valuable Player a year ago, when he paced the majors in home runs, 45, and runs batted in, 148, is the returning ringleader of the Cincinnati fence-busting gang.

His cronies include Tony Perez, Lee May, Pete Rose and Bernie Carbo, who combined for 110 more homers as the Reds rolled to 102 victories and a 14½-game margin over the second-place Dodgers in the West.

The 1971 Maciine doubtless will miss center fielder Bob Tolan, out indefinitely after undergoing surgery to repair a torn Achilles tendon. A knee injury has sidelined May temporarily and Manager Sparky Anderson could run into pitching difficulties if 20-game winner Jim Merritt and young Wayne Simpson, 14-3 as a rookie, don't bounce back from arm ailments.

Pittsburgh, led by big hitters Willie Stargell, Roberto Clemente, Manny Sanguillen, Bob Robertson and Al Oliver, also had to overcome sore arms last year. But the Pirates added pitching depth through winter trades for fireballer Bob Johnson and Nelson Briles.

The Mets can't match Pittsburgh's offensive might, but their young arms—Tom Seaver, Jerry Koosman, Gary Gentry, Nolan Ryan—give them the finest pitching in the league, when it is healthy. Seaver, who won 18 games last year but tired during the stretch run, is the key man.

Cy Young Award winner Bog Gibson is St. Louis' mound ace. But the 23-game winner will need more pitching help from Steve Carlton, Jerry Reuss and Mike Torrez if the Cardinals, bouyed by trades that gave them Matty Alou and Ted Sizemore, are to rise up as serious contenders.

Age could catch up with the Cubs, who finished second a year ago with Billy Williams, Ron Santo and Jim Hickman, all over 30, leading the way. But pitching stars Ferguson Jenkins, Ken Holtzman and Bill Hands are young and strong enough to keep Leo Durocher's club close again.

The Expos are pinning their hopes for improvement on the right arm of Carl Morton, the league's 1970 Rookie of the Year, and veteran swingers Rusty Staub, Ron Fairly, Bob Bailey and Ron Hunt.

Philadelphia's pitching prospects appear bleak, but rookie outfielders Roger Freed and Joe Lis could supply some added punch.

The Dodgers beefed up their offense for the West Division race by obtainining Allen, the controversial strongman who crashed 34 homers last year, from St. Louis. Bill Singer heads a formidable pitching staff. Willie Davis and Wes Parker spark the attack.

Pitching ace Juan Marichal, coming off a sub-par season, and venerable Willie Mays, who will be 40 next month, are key figures for the Giants, who figure to get solid run-production from Willie McCovey, Bobby Bonds and Ken Henderson.

The Astros have a budding superstar in center fielder Cesar Cedeno, an outstainding pitcher in Larry Dierker and enough supporting talent to become a genuine threat.

Atlanta, however, could slide appreciably without NL batting champ Rico Carty, who will miss considerable action while recuperating from knee surgery.

Kentucky Derby Picture Has Changed

By ED SCHUYLER JR.
Associated Press Sports Writer

With the Kentucky Derby picture completely changed since the career-ending injury to Hoist The Flag, a host of 3-year-olds will compete in four stakes Saturday, with wins and good showings counting as another step toward Louisville.

The richest of the four is the $100,000-added Santa Anita Derby which drew a field of 10 including Unconscious, the winner of three straight and Jim French, a stakes winner in Florida.

A field of at least 10 is expected for the $50,000-added Gotham at Aqueduct. This one-mile test was expected only to draw four before Hoist The Flag broke his leg.

John M. Olin's Northfields, the Louisiana Derby winner, will try to make it two straight $50,000-added stakes victories in the Arkansas Derby at Oaklawn Park.

Mrs. John Longden's Diplomatic Agent, also entered in the Santa Anita Derby, heads a field of 14 entered in the $25,000-added Golf Rush Stakes at Golden Gate Field.

There also is a rich plum up for grabs for older horses—the $100,000-added John B. Campbell Handicap at Bowie, with Mrs. Ethel Jacobs' Personality, the 1970 3-year-old champion, trying for his first win of the year.

Unconscious, winner of the Santa Catalina Stakes and San Felipe Handicap for Arthur A. Seeligson Jr., will face nine in the 1⅛-mile Santa Anita, all eligible for the Kentucky Derby except Ophion.

Others in field are Harbor Point, Crimson Clem, Fast Fellow, Vegas Vic, Steal A Dance and Triple Bend. Each starter will carry 120 pounds.

Leading contenders for the Gotham are Brookmead Stable's Limit To Reason, John M. Schiff's Drolle Role and Neil Hellman's Swift Winner, Good Behaving, not nominated for the Derby.

Northfields toughest competition in the probable nine-horse line-up for the 1⅛-mile Arkansas Derby is expected to be Mrs. Herman Udouj's Barbizon Streak, Ogden Phipps' Will Hays and Pastrolae Stable's Twist The Axe. Northfields gets the high weight of 126 pounds.

If Diplomatic Agent goes in the one-mile Gold Rush, he will get 121 pounds, three more than Vested Power and nine more than any of the other 12.

The Arkansas Derby Set for Saturday

By HARRY KING
Associated Press Writer

HOT SPRINGS, Ark. (AP) — Trainer Eddie Neloy says his hope in Saturday's $50,000 added Arkansas Derby at Oaklawn Park reminds him of Wilt Chamberlain.

"He's a tall, gangly colt," said Neloy, referring to Ogden Phipps' Will Hays. "If you rush him and try to make him run before he gets in stride it's no good."

Will Hays closed with a rush to finish third in the Louisiana Derby last week at the Fairgrounds in New Orleans.

"He has one particular style and you can't do anything about it," Neloy said. "He has to be gathered up and settled in stride before you ask him to run. If they string out Saturday we've got no chance."

Although Phipps entered Pass the Drink in the 1970 Arkansas Derby and King of the Castle in the 1969 derby, this is Neloy's first visit to Oaklawn since 1946. "I was between jobs then," he said.

Neloy says Will Hays' chance Saturday depends on the pace of the race.

"It has to be a fast early pace for him to show to his best advantage," Neloy said. "Another thing that could hurt a horse that likes to come from out of it is the traffic."

Will Hays may face as many as 14 others in the 1⅛ mile test, including John M. Olin's Northfields, winner of the Louisiana Derby. Northfields, who will be topweighted at 126 pounds, and Mrs. Herman Odouj's Barbizon Streak will probably be the favorites. Barbizon Streak is unbeaten in three starts at Oaklawn.

George M. Holtsinger's Bopdavelle is the other Oaklawn performer given the best chance in the derby.

Bopdavelle won a six-furlong event March 20 in a sparkling 1:09 4-5 and completed a mile in an excellent 1:36 4-5. Bopdavelle is out of the mare Princess Davelle, a sister to Al Davelle and Prince Davelle—BOTH Arkansas Derby winners.

Doug Davis Jr., trainer of Bopdavelle, says the horse is "peaking at exactly the right time. I know a little more about him than other folks do and I think he's the one who'll have to be beaten—if we can get a fast track."

No rainfall is expected through Saturday.

Others who may start in the derby are Pastorale Stables' Twist The Axe; W. P. Rosso's Impetuosity; Robert Huffman's Knight Counter; Robert Lehmann's Wonder Zone; W. A. Lofton's Patient Hands; N. H. Stone's Saltwell; Wayne Sezey's Rusty King; Charles M. Day's Saigon Warrior; Mary Van Wyck's Bixa; Mrs. Anne Yocum's Exit Too and John D. Askew's Jovial John.

Arkansan Advances

HOUSTON (AP) — Mrs. Olga Palafox of Little Rock, Ark., advanced to the semifinals of the Women's Senior Clay Courts Tennis Championships Thursday with a 6-2, 6-1 victory over third seeded Barbara Hultgren of Stanford, Calif.

Super Rookie Captures Scoring Title

NEW YORK (AP) — Super rookie Dan Issel of Kentucky, with a torrid stretch run, won the American Basketball Association's scoring title this season with a 29.88 average.

Issel used two 51-point efforts at the end of the season to nose out fast-closing Rick Barry of New York, who also had a 51-point night the final week and finished with a 29.39 average.

Issel scored 2,480 points to 1,734 for Barry. Pittsburgh's John Brisker was third with 2,315 points for a 29.30 mark.

Mel Daniels of Indiana won the rebounding title, also in the season's final days. He took top honors with a 17.99 average, but Denver's Julius Keye grabbed 131 rebounds in his last seven games to draw within half a rebound of Daniels in the final standings.

Zelmo Beaty of Utah took the twopoint field goal honors with a .555 average; Carolina's George Lehmann finished in three-point field goal shooting with a .403 percentage and Barry topped the league in free-throw percentage with an .890 average. Barry's teammate, Bill Melchionni, chalked up 672 assists for an average of 8.29 to pace the ABA in that department.

Bosox Manager Hopes for More Trades

By DAVE O'HARA
Associated Press Sports Writer

WINTER HAVEN, Fla. (AP) — General Manager Dick O'Connell of the Boston Red Sox stayed close to the phone today, hoping for a call that might swing a trade before the club breaks camp.

The Red Sox wound up their Florida exhibition campaign by losing a 13-12 slugfest to the Detroit Tigers at Lakeland Thursday. O'Connell sat through a nightmare as the Tigers outhit the Red Sox 22-20.

Manager Eddie Kasko gave most of the players time off today, but he had a morning meeting with O'Connell on his scheduled.

O'Connell, trying to swing another deal after acquiring catcher Duane Josephson from the Chicago White Sox Tuesday, indicated he would have some sort of an announcement.

"We have 27 players on the roster and we intend to take only 25 with us when we leave Saturday morning," O'Connell said.

The roster, two over the 25-player limit for the start of the American League season in Boston Tuesday, includes four catchers, 11 pitchers, seven infielders and five outfielders.

With Josephson stepping into the starting catcher's job, either Bob Montgomery, Don Pavletich or Tom Satriano is headed elsewhere.

Reliever Gary Wagner, who has seen little action because of a tender arm this spring, could be another cutdown casualty.

With hopes of getting slugger Frank Howard of the Washington Senators dwindling, the Red Sox may be looking for pitching help—the same old story with many clubs, but a problem for years in Boston.

RUSSELLVILLE, Ark. (AP) —Arkansas Tech's J. T. Bradberry pitched both ends of a doubleheader victory over College of the Ozarks Thursday.

Bradberry gave up one hit as the Wonder Boys won the first game 5-2 and scattered four hits as Tech blanked Ozarks 1-0 in the second game.

Lucky Shot by Ellis Keeps Warriors Alive

By TED MEIER
Associated Press Sports Writer

A lucky long shot by Joe Ellis in the last second kept the Milwaukee Bucks from making a four-game sweep of the San Francisco Warriors in the National Basketball Association playoffs.

Ellis let fly with a 40-footer that turned an apparent 104-103 defeat into a 106-104 victory for the Warriors Thursday night and kept them alive in the Western Conference semifinals.

The basket from near the center of the floor put the Warriors ahead 105-104. A technical foul then was called on the Bucks for taking an extra time out and Jeff Mullins sank the free throw for the final point.

The New York Knicks eliminated Atlanta 111-107, Philadelphia shaded Baltimore 104-103 and Los Angeles routed Chicago 115-89 in the other playoff games Thursday.

Just three seconds before Ellis' dramatic shot, Oscar Robertson's short jumper had put the Bucks ahead in the game at Oakland, Calif.

Lew Alcindor of the Bucks and Jerry Lucas of the Warriors each scored 32 points to share the game's high scoring honors. The series now moves to Madison, Wis. for a Sunday afternoon game in which the Bucks, leading the best-of-7 series, 3-1, can wrap it up.

The Knicks took the first step toward their second straight NBA title by wiping out a nine-point deficit in the final quarter to beat Atlanta in New York.

The victory gave the Knicks the series, 4-1, and put them in the Eastern Conference final against either Philadelphia or Baltimore.

Archie Clark's free throw in the last minute was the winning point as the 76ers survived Baltimore's closing rally in Baltimore. The 76ers now hope to even the series at 3-3 by beating the Bullets in Philadelphia Saturday afternoon.

The Lakers, back home in Los Angeles, drubbed the Bulls behind Gail Goodrich's 33 points. The Lakers now lead the series 3-2 and can win it by beating the Bulls in Chicago Sunday afternoon.

Rookie Pete Maravich, who scored 31 points, paced Atlanta to its nine point lead before the Knicks rallied. Two free throws by Willis Reed put the Knicks ahead for good after Dave Stallworth had tied the score. Dave DeBusschere, with 29 points, led the New Yorkers.

Defense also was the key in the Lakers' rout of the Bulls.

Clark, who scored 31 points for the 76ers, made his winning free throw with 50 seconds left. That put Philadelphia ahead 104-101 which Earl Monroe of the Bullets cut to one with two free throws.

Billy Cunningham was high for the 76ers with 32 points. Monroe topped Baltimore with 26.

Texas beat Denver 115-109 to gain the last berth in the American Basketball Association playoffs which start with four games tonight.

New York is at Virginia, Floridians at Kentucky, Memphis at Indiana and Texas at Utah.

High Ranked PanAm Beats Porkers

EDINBURG, Tex. (AP)—Pan American University, ranked No. 2 in the nation by Collegiate Baseball magazine, defeated Arkansas 10-0 and Rice 3-0 Thursday in the first round of the Palm Valley college baseball tournament.

Lupe Salinas hurled his eighth straight victory for Pan Am in the opener and Reggis Tredaway hit a two-run homer in the third to get Pan American started on the rout of Arkansas.

In the nightcap, Pan Am's James Tyrone broke up a shut out by Rice's Steve Holder with a two-run homer.

Pan Am's Gary Doyle flipped a one-hitter at the Owls, yielding only a single to Randy Burchfield in the fifth inning.

Arkansas plays a doubleheader Friday against Pan Am and Rice in the double-elimination tournament, which ends Saturday.

East Cagers Favored to Beat West

DAYTON, Ohio (AP) — With three All-Americans stocked in its arsenal, the East will be favored to whip the West Saturday in the nationally-televised Coaches' College All-Star Basketball Game.

Artis Gilmore of Jacksonville and Jim McDaniels of Western Kentucky, two 7-footers, and high-scoring Austin Carr of Notre Dame are on the 11-man East team coached by retired Kansas mentor Dutch Lonborg.

The three landed spots on the first All-America squad selected by The Associated Press this season.

Dave Robisch of Kansas heads the West stars who will be guided by retired Utah Coach Vadal Peters.

This is the first time in the nine-year history of the game that it has been played on University of Dayton Arena's tartan floor. A crowd of 13,000 is expected for the 2 p.m. EST contest sponsored by the National Association of Basketball Coaches.

Ali Learns His Fate Next June

WASHINGTON (AP) — Muhammad Ali, the former world heavyweight boxing champion, is expected to learn in June whether he will have to serve his five year sentence for refusing induction into the Armed Services.

The Supreme Court announced Thursday it will hear arguments April 19 on Ali's appeal that he was entitled to an exemption on religious grounds. The high court indicated it would rule on the case before the end of its current term sometime in June.

Ali, also known as Cassius Clay, was indicted on May 5, 1967 and convicted the following month. He was sentenced to five years and fined $10,000. He appealed, contending his Muslim religion barred him from fighting in any war that did not have Allah's blessing.

Ken Venturi Is Making a Comeback

SAN FRANCISCO (AP) — Former U.S. Open golf champion Ken Venturi, who once thought arthritis had knocked him off the pro circuit for good, is coming back.

Venturi said Thursday that surgery on his severely crippled left hand and arms was more successful than he ever hoped and has allowed him to regain his competitive form.

He said he will resume the pro tour with the Houston Open on May 13.

Venturi won the 1964 U.S. Open but was forced to quit the tour the following year when arthritis kept him from gripping his clubs properly. Recurring hand problems nullified several previous comeback tries.

Noncandidate Has Speaking Schedule

By CARL P. LEUBSDORF
AP Political Writer

WASHINGTON (AP) — Sen. Henry M. Jackson calls himself an "official noncandidate" for the 1972 Democratic presidential nomination. No separate office. No extra staff.

But the Washington senator's speaking schedule includes Florida, California, Oregon and Massachusetts—all with presidential primaries. Last week he made the meeting of the Association of Democratic State Chairmen.

And in the midst of his unsuccessful fight to save the supersonic transport plane for Boeing Corp., his home state's employerJackson made a politically significant pilgrimage to the Texas ranch of former President Lyndon B. Johnson.

"There was absolutely no indication whom he would support for the nomination," Jackson said conceding politics was discussed during the social call. Then, significantly: "But he feels very deeply about maintaining the historic position of the Democratic party's national security policy."

That policy, as the 58-year-old Jackson has been pointed out in recent speeches, comprises a strong national defense, support of the nation's international commitments and awareness of and opposition to Soviet expansion, in the Middle Esst and the Far East.

"The Nixon administration is in deep trouble on the domestic front," Jackson, a New Deal-New Frontier-Great Society liberal on home-front issues, said in an interview last week.

"But the Democrats could lose the election if they find themselves advocating policies of national weakness at a time we are confronted with deep dangers."

The advocates of "national weakness" are never spelled out by name. But Jackson's definition covers such items as prompt U.S. withdrawal from Vietnam and less defense spending.

This includes most of those running tacitly or openly for the Democratic presidential nomination: Sens. George S. McGovern of South Dakota, Harold Hughes of Iowa, Birch E. Bayh of Indiana and Edmund S. Muskie of Maine, widely regarded as the front-runner.

For the moment Jackson's stated aim is to influence his party's policies. His success has been less than notable. The Democratic Policy Council, which he declined to join, voted unanimously last week to call for total U.S. withdrawal from Vietnam this year.

If Jackson should find an active candidacy is the best way to influence party policies, a decision he'll have to make later this year, he could find his strongest support coming from the South, despite a strong pro-civil rights record.

Southern-state Democratic chairmen interviewed last week said Muskie and Jackson are the only two candidates who definitely could defeat President Nixon in the South.

Besides the South, attracted primarily by his national-security stance, Jackson could win support of a potent coalition.

DR. LAWRENCE E. LAMB

Pancreas Fluids Aid Fat Digestion

By Lawrence Lamb, M.D.

Dear Dr. Lamb—Is pancreatitis caused by an infection as seems to be the case since it is sometimes treated with antibiotics? Has diet anything to do with it? Is it rather difficult to treat with any success?

Dear Reader—Pancreatitis means "inflammation of the pancreas." This can be caused in a number of ways. Of course, the treatment depends on what causes it.

One of the main functions of the pancreas is to manufacture powerful enzymes that aid in the digestion, particularly of fat. These are passed through a small tube from the pancreas into an opening in the small intestine. This opening is right beside the opening of the bile duct that drains the bile from the liver.

A common way to get pancreatitis is to have a small gallstone lodge in the opening of the bile duct and compress the opening of the duct from the pancreas. This obstructs the flow of pancreatic juices and sets up an inflammation.

The flow of pancreatic juice can also be obstructed by a tumor or other mechanical mechanisms.

If the tubes for the passage of the bile and pancreatic juice have a common channel, sometimes bile is regurgitated back into the pancreas and causes an inflammation.

There are many infectious diseases that may involve the pancreas—one of these is mumps. The glands around the jaw, commonly affected by mumps, are very similar to the pancreas and it is well to keep in mind that anyone who has mumps may also have pancreatitis. This may be the reason for an illness that seems a great deal more severe than just simple mumps.

Other diseases which can also cause pancreatitis are scarlet fever, viral hepatitis, infectious mononeucleosis and typhoid fever.

Some chemicals will affect the pancreas, the most common being alcohol. A number of metabolic diseases that affect the nutrition also affect the pancreas.

Many people are aware that alcohol in excessive amounts over a long period of time can damage the liver, but it is not well known that alcohol can suddenly affect the pancreas and cause a very severe illness.

In some instances, the diet is quite important in treatment, particularly if there is a metabolic problem involved that affects the body's nutrition and in other instances it is less important. It depends entirely on what is causing pancreatitis.

The disease can be chronic, which usually refers to recurring episodes of pancreatitis. This can occur in someone with recurring gallstones that are not treated or someone who has had pancreatitis secondary to alcohol and continues his alcoholic habit.

Opening lead—♣ Q

By Oswald & James Jacoby

South had no trouble finding a way to go down. He drew trumps and went after hearts. If hearts had broken 3-2 he would have made his slam. The actual 4-1 break meant that he had to lose two diamond tricks.

North suggested a more complicated line of play. His idea was that South should have led a diamond at trick two. This would make it possible to discard one diamond on the king of clubs and ruff another one with dummy's nine of trumps.

It looks fine but see what would have happened. East would take his ace of diamonds and just might return a trump. South would win in his hand; lead a second diamond to dummy, discard a diamond on the king of clubs, ruff dummy's last club, ruff his last diamond with the nine of trumps and claim slam except for one minor detail. He would be stuck in dummy with nothing but hearts. West would ruff the second heart and this line of play would fail.

Stop right here and see if you can work out a winning way to play the slam.

At trick two South must lead a heart to dummy. Then he discards his second heart on dummy's king of clubs and ruffs a heart with his last spot. Then South enters dummy with the nine of trumps and ruffs another heart. This sets up the rest of dummy's heart suit. Now South draws the adverse trumps and concedes one diamond to the defense.

♥♣CARD Sense♦♠

The bidding has been:

West	North	East	South
	1 ♥	Pass	2 ♣
Pass	3 ♦	Pass	3 ♥
Pass	4 ♥	Pass	?

You, South, hold:

♠ A 2 ♥ A J 4 ♦ 6 3 ♣ K Q J 7 5

What do you do now?

A—You might try four no trump, but a better procedure is to just bid four spades to show that ace.

TODAY'S QUESTION

You do bid four spades and your partner bids five clubs. What do you do now?

Fall From a Swing Fatal

FORREST CITY, Ark. (AP) —Angela Faye Willis, 7, of the Madison community near Forrest City was killed late Wednesday when she fell from a swing while playing at her home.

Authorities said the child apparently suffered a fractured skull in the fall.

Prevented Crime

In 1861, conspirators planned to blow up Lincoln's inaugural train, bound for Washington, at Baltimore. The plot was discovered and the crime prevented by Allan Pinkerton, a detective assigned to guard Lincoln.

QUICK QUIZ

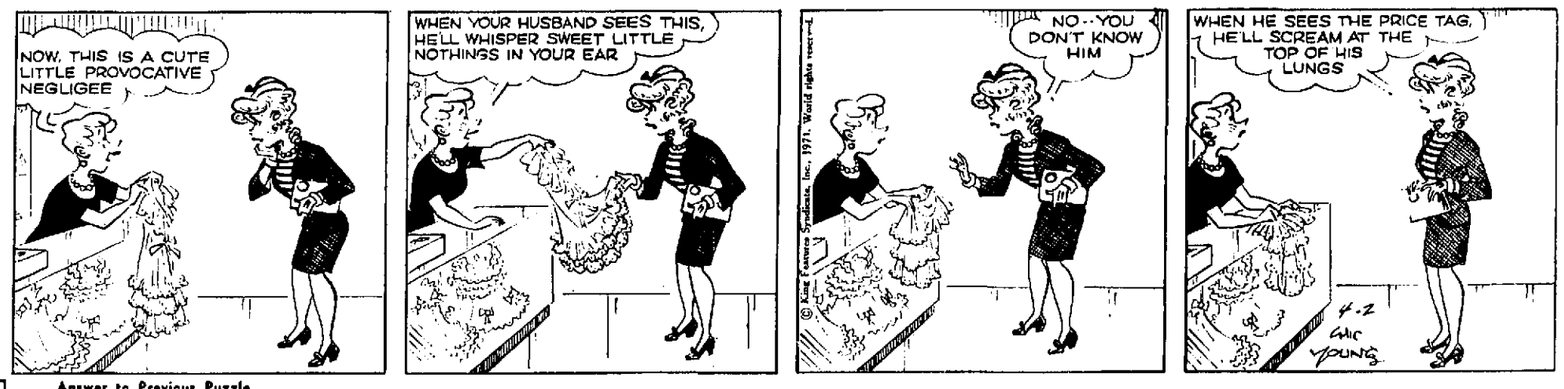

Q—What fish is capable of swallowing a fish as long as itself?

A—The angler fish, a bottom-living predator, only three inches long, is able to swallow another fish fully her own size, after which her stomach swells out like a balloon. This applies only to the female.

Q—What is the restriction on citizenship in the Republic of Liberia?

A—Only Negroes can hold citizenship.

"DOGMAN" on the rise rides a crane swivel hook at a Sydney, Australia, construction project. The swivel is known as a "dog," hence "dogman" for the rider. His job is to control a load being lifted by signals on the line in his hand —one pull for up, two for down.

China Treated Americans Courteously

By DAVID J. PAINE
Associated Press Writer

HONG KONG (AP) — A Philippine airliner hijacked to Communist China returned home today, and one of the four Americans aboard reported the Red Chinese asked them few questions and treated them "courteously."

"We were not treated badly in any way," said Eldred Fewkes of Burley, Idaho, who has been in business in Manila for 12 years.

The Philippines Airlines twin-engine jet, with 19 passengers and crew of five, flew here this morning from Canton, in southern China, after leaving behind six young Filipino hijackers.

The hijackers diverted the plane with 45 persons aboard Tuesday morning during a domestic flight in the Philippines. It refueled in Hong Kong, where 20 passengers were released.

After the plane's return to Hong Kong, security guards searched it for bombs that might have been planted by the hijackers and found none. Then plane, passengers and crew returned to Manila.

Fewkes told a news conference in Hong Kong that the passengers, hijackers and crew spent the night in a dormitory at the Canton airport, the four women in single rooms and the men in rooms with four beds each.

He said the hijackers "were still around, mixing with us up to the time we left this morning."

"They wished us good luck when we got on the plane," he said. Fewkes was asked by newsmen whether the hijackers were given political asylum by Communist China.

"I have no comment on that," he replied.

"They said they plan to return to the Philippines in two years time," he said, adding that there were "indications that the hijackers belonged to some organization. They all looked to be students and they said they had some long-range program."

Officials in Manila said five of the youths were students at Mindanao University in the southern Philippines and the sixth was a former student there. Reports Tuesday said there were five hijackers, but it developed that a sixth passenger was in the group.

The three other American passengers were the Rev. and Mrs. Russell E. Ebersole of North Caldwell, N.J., and George W. Drysdale of Waukegan, Ill. The Ebersoles are Baptist missionaries, and Drysdale is president of a Manila company.

Soviet Chief Acting Like a Juggler

By WILLIAM L. RYAN
AP Special Correspondent

General Secretary Leonid I. Brezhnev's report to the 24th Soviet Communist congress used words seemingly chosen to reflect great confidence, but he left the impression of being like a juggler with too many plates in the air at once.

The first day of the congress was revealing, enough though the 5,000 delegates did nothing Tuesday but listen to six hours of Brezhnev oration, mercifully interrupted by two breaks for refreshment.

These points seemed to emerge:

—On domestic affairs, support for speculation that a contest is going on for allocation, with the military still demanding the lion's share, although Brezhnev heavily stressed the civilian view that higher living standards were of great importance. The military favors lopsided investment in heavy industry.

—In foreign affairs, a surface look of boldness. Much of this, however, was adorned with cliches about "imperialism." Brezhnev also seems to have adopted the Nikita Khrushchev technique of the blockbuster proposal. The call for conferences on nuclear and general disarmament is reminisicent of Khrushchev's sponsorship of "general and complete disarmament," which sounded good but, in this sort of world, was hardly possible.

—In international Communist affairs, indication that the ideological conflict worries Soviet leaders and occupies much of their attention.

—In the ideological struggle, a hint that some sort of international Communist center to direct the movement's activities would be welcome, perhaps along lines of the defunct Communist Information Bureau—the old Cominform of the later Stalin days.

—In the cold war, a hint that Moscow would like another go-around for the popular front idea in Europe, Communists cooperating with left-wing elements. Brezhnev seemed angry that some Social Democrats in Europe didn't want to cooperate, and he dismissed them as representatives of an incorrigible right wing.

Bantams Will Renew Their Bitter Feud

LOS ANGELES (AP) — World bantamweight champion Chucho Castillo and Ruben Olivares, the young man he dethroned as kingpin of the 118-pounders, renew their bitter feud tonight in a 15-round title fight.

Favoritism has flipped from one camp to the other the past week. They'll probably rate about even when they climb through the ropes at the Forum in suburban Inglewood.

It marks the third time in less than a year these two fighters from Mexico City have met. Both encounters were scorchers. Olivares, now 24, successfully defended the title here April 18, 1970, by unanimous decision.

It was Castillo, 26, winning the title in this same Forum last Oct. The referee stopped the match in the 14th round because of a deep laceration over Olivares' left eye—a cut that originated from an accidental butt in the first round.

The trend toward Castillo stems mainly from Olivares' history of eye cuts. Castillo is a slashing puncher.

Olivares assured his supporters he would take care of such trouble" this time and promised he would knock Castillo out inside 10 rounds.

The voluble Ruben, however, in 29 rounds has been unable to deck Castillo while Chucho owns the only knockdown in the series—once in the first fight.

Winningest Teams Get Home Courts

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

The four winningest teams in the American Basketball Association get a little more than the top spots in their divisions. They also get "home-court advantage" for the first two games of the division semi-finals.

The games tonight in Hampton, Va., Louisville, Ky., Indianapolis and Salt Lake City mark the beginning of the best-of-7 series between the 1-3 and 2-4 teams in the ABA's East and West Divisions.

The Virginia Squires, the Eastern champs, probably have the largest home-court or at least the most home courts. They play the New York Nets.

If the series goes the seven games, it would be played in five different locations—Hampton, Richmond and Norfolk in Virginia—Squires' homes; Hempstead, Long Island and the Felt Forum in Madison Square Garden in New York.

The Western Division champion Indiana Pacers, the defending ABA kings, are expecting standing room only crowds of more than 10,000 at the Indiana State Fairgrounds Coliseum for the games against the Memphis Pros.

In Louisville, Kentucky Colonels Coach Frank Ramsey said his team would go into the playoffs against the Floridians "with confidence. For one thing, we have the homecourt advantage for the first two games."

The East runnerup coach also said home court advantage could be overrated because "there's no such thing as an easy touch when you get into the playoffs."

The Utah Stars, No. 2 in the West, know where their home court is but were not sure until Thursday night where they would be playing the away semifinal games. Texas and Denver tied for the last playoff spot in the division with 30-54 records.

The Chaparrals won a 115-109 victory that means Utah will be traveling to Texas.

Donnie Freeman scored 17 of his 33 points in the final quarter to lead the Chaps, who were tied with the Rockets 79-79 after three quarters. He scored four quick baskets, then a three-point play to wrap up the victory. Larry Cannon led Denver with 18 points.

In National Basketball Association semifinal games Thursday night, New York defeated Atlanta 111-107 to win the best-of-7 series, 4-1; Philadelphia downed Baltimore 104-103, the Bullets lead the series 3-2; Los Angeles swamped Chicago 115-89, and lead 3-2; and San Francisco staved off elimination with a 106-104 victory over Milwaukee, which leads 3-1.

Record Is Cracked at Oaklawn

HOT SPRINGS, Ark. (AP) — Crimson Saint cracked the Oaklawn Park record for four furlongs Thursday while scoring a five-length victory over 11 other 2-year-old fillies in the $15,000 added Ballerina Stakes.

Kind R. Reception is top-weighted at 120 pounds in today's $20,000 Apple Blossom Handicap. Others entered in the six-furlong event are P. F. Mayboy (109), Dancing Late (118), Rewarder (114), Sir Realist (112), Dance To Market (113) and Loud and True (111).

Crimson Saint, owned by Braugh Ranches of Kingsville, Tex., and trained by Gin Collins, covered the four furlongs in 44 4-5 seconds, two fifths better than the record set by Cherry Laurel in 1961.

As the 1-2 favorite, Crimson Saint paid $3, $2.60 and $2.40. Apple Jackie returned $3.20 and $2.80 and Pensive Note paid $2.80 to show.

Jockey Danny Whited hustled Crimson Saint out of the gate and the filly immediately opened up a three-length lead. She continued to widen her lead down the stretch, covering the final quarter in 22 1-5 seconds. The victory was Crimson Satan's second in two outings.

Apple Jackie passed Pensive Note in the stretch and secured the place position by 2½ lengths.

Crimson Saint earned $9,870 for her winning effort.

Thurman Sr., the first of four winners for jockey Lonnie Ray, combined with Southside Boy for a $68.20 daily double. Ray also won on Epazootix in the fourth, Johns Colonel in the fifth and Second Adventure in the eighth.

Newcombe and Laver in Quarterfinals

MIAMI (AP) — Two Australians, third seeded Rod Laver and top seeded John Newcombe faced each other today in quarter-final pairings in the $50,000 Aventura World Tennis Classic.

Fifth seeded Tom Okker of Holland took on eighth seeded Roy Emerson of Australia.

Australian Tony Roche, eleventh seeded, and Newcombe took on unseeded Australians Ray Ruffles and Bob Carmichael, while the second-seeded American duo of Tony Ralston and Arthur Ashe faced unseeded Australians John Alexander and Phil Dent.

Sixth seeded Cliff Drysdale of South Africa Thursday night defeated unseeded Nikki Pilic of Yugoslavia 6-3, 6-2 in a quarter-final match.

The victory pitts Drysdale in a semi-final contest Saturday with Roche.

Roche gained entry into the semi-final Thursday night by beating Ralston.

In doubles action, Laver and Emerson handed a 6-3, 7-5 defeat to Okker and American Marty Riesen.

The Australian team of Ken Rosewall and Fred Stolley, seeded fourth, barely overcame sixth seeded Bob Lutz of the U.S. and Charley Pasarell of Puerto Rico.

The match ended with a sudden-death tie breaker after the team deadlocked at 6-6 in the second set.

Czechs Pull Surprise on Russians

GENEVA (AP) — The United States meets West Germany in the World Ice Hockey Championships today with only a forlorn hope of avoiding relegation to Group B in the 1972 Championships.

To avoid the demotion from Group A, the Americans must beat the Germans by at least five goals. In their previous meeting the Germans scored a convincing 7-2 victory over the Yanks.

The game is the only match scheduled today.

The surprising Czechoslovakia team, beaten by the United States March 19 in the first game of the tourney, scored a major upset by defeating the champion Soviet Union Thursday 5-2.

It was the seventh straight victory for the Czechs and gave them an outside chance of ending the Soviets' eight-year reign as champions.

For this to happen, the Czechs must beat Finland and Sweden must upset the Soviets in the tourney's concluding games Saturday.

Georgia's Governor Is a Wheeler

By BLOYS BRITT
AP Auto Race Writer

ATLANTA (AP) — If you should see Georgia's gov. Jimmy Carter wheeling a race car down one of Atlanta's freeways, be advised that he has been licensed to do so.

The sandy-haired, slightly built chief executive of Georgia entertained stock car racing's ace drivers at a reception and dinner at the governor's mansion Thursday night and picked up some free driving advice from the likes of A.J. Foyt, Richard Petty, Cale Yarborough and Pete Hamilton.

He also was made an honorary official of NASCAR, the sport's largest sanctioning body, and quipped:

"I am now permitted to drive a car faster than an acquaintance of mine who rides a bicycle backwards."

Carter was referring to his predecessor, Lester Maddox, who gained a measure of fame from his antics with bicycles.

The governor, who maintains that auto racing is his favorite sport, told the 28 drivers who attended the reception:

"Having you here is the greatest honor that I have had since I entered politics. You have been heroes to my family for years, and I have watched you in action at Daytona, Sebring and Atlanta. I have great respect for your courage and sportsmanship."

Foyt will start Sunday's $106,000 Atlanta 500 from the pole position.

Foyt, driving a Mercury owned by the Wood Brothers of Stuart, Va., was clocked at 155.152 miles per hour Thursday to win his third straight pole position in NASCAR Grand National racing this year.

Dodge's Bobby Isaac, the 1970 driving champion, grabbed the other front row spot at 154.932 m.p.h. as 15 drivers made Sunday's 40 car field. Petty and Buddy Baker, teammates in a Plymouth and Dodge respectively, got the second-row berths.

Fifteen other starting positions were to be filled in time trials today, leaving the final 10 to come from qualifying runs Saturday.

Hamilton, a three-time winner last year, was expected to pace today's qualifying. He missed Thursday's first round because of the late arrival of his new Plymouth.

Carter assured the drivers, he, his wife, and three older children would be among the expected 60,000 at Sunday's race at Atlanta International Raceway.

Legislature to Recess for 2 Weeks

LITTLE ROCK (AP) — The Arkansas General Assembly is expected to recess today for two weeks.

The Arkansas Senate adopted a Senate concurrent resolution Thursday calling for a two-week recess to begin with the close of business Friday. The resolution was worked out by special House and Senate committees on adjournment, but the lower chamber has not acted on the resolution.

During the two-week recess, legislative proposals would be examined to determine whether they contained typographical or other errors and to make certain they had been approved through proper procedural channels.

If any serious errors were discovered, the legislature would reconvene, correct the errors and then adjourn sine die.

Majority Against Firing Sarver

LITTLE ROCK (AP) — A statewide poll of 367 persons showed that 59 per cent of those polled disapproved of the dismissal of Correction Commissioner Robert Sarver.

Sarver was fired Monday night.

The poll, conducted by political analyst Jim Ranchino for Little Rock television station KATV, showed that 17 per cent of those polled favored the dismissal and 24 per cent were undecided.

Featured at Olde West Dinner Theater

DAWN WELLS

Dawn Wells, 'Mary Ann' in the long-running television program "Gilligan's Island," will star in "Love Is A Time Of Day" at the Olde West Dinner Theatre opening Tuesday evening, April 6.

The petite brunette has over 150 TV shows to her credit including guest star appearances on "Bonanza," "Wild Wild West," "The Invaders," "The Joey Biship Show," "77 Sunset Strip," "87 Precinct," "Wells Fargo," and "It's A Man's World." She began her career as Miss Nevada and went on to win awards in the Miss America Pageant. Her latest movie is "The New Interns."

The comedy by John Patrick first opened on Broadway at the Music Box Theatre December 22, 1969. John Patrick, one of America's most prolific comedy writers, is probably best known for the blockbuster "Teahouse Of The August Moon."

The story evolves around a boy-girl relationship on and off a college campus. April McGregor (Dawn Wells) is a conscientious graduate student interested only in pursuing her education, and Skipper Allen (Johnny Armen), a robust, virile student, is only interested in pursuing her.

She lives a well-to-do, quiet life in her off-campus apartment until one evening Skipper "crashes her pad" and becomes immobilized with a flare up of an old football injury and torn pants (his only pair).

She makes every conceivable effort to get rid of him short of murder, but he retalliates with outrageous counter moves in a charming battle of wits.

Add a dog who was found before he was lost, noisy neighbors, a protesting Mother who controls the purse strings and maintains telephone contact 24 hours a day, and you have the makings for hilarious evening in the theatre.

Low-cost previews will be in effect April 6, 7, and 8 at $5.40 per person. The champagne opening is set for Thursday, April 8 where the audience can meet Miss Wells.

Howard-Gibco Sales Up But Profits Down

TEXARKANA, Tex.—Howard-Gibco Corporation achieved record sales of $56,400,000, an increase of 35.7 per cent, according to preliminary unaudited figures for the fiscal year ended January 31, 1971, the company reported today.

Profits of $706,000 compared with $1,206,000 in the previous year. Per share earnings were 49 cents compared with 93 cents last year.

Howard-Gibco also announced today that it has terminated its franchise agreement with H.R. Gibson, Sr., under amicable circumstances. Howard-Gibco owns and operates 28 Gibson Discount Centers in Arkansas, Texas, Oklahoma, Missouri and Kentucky.

"The company initiated this action because we feel it is in the best intersts of Howard-Gibco stockholders and overall company operations," explained Jasper S. Howard, president.

He said the three major immediate benefits would be:

"Franchise fee costs will be eliminated.

"The company can avail itself of opportunities for new locations without being bound by a franchise territory agreement.

"We can now more effectively utilize our substantial buying power and knowledge through the ability to deal on a more direct basis with our major suppliers."

Mr. Howard said the chief reasons for the decline in profits last year included:

"Substantial expenditures were required for opening and promoting seven new stores during the year.

"A few of the company's stores have not performed according to expectations.

"Profit margins were not sufficiently adjusted to cover higher than anticipated overhead costs.

"And, highly competitive promotional markdowns had an adverse affect on our traditional sales mix and lowered overall profit margins."

Sales during the fourth quarter increased 33.3 per cent to $18,513,000, while profits of $187,000 were lower than the fourth quarter of last year. Per share earnings were 13 cents compared with 31 cents.

During the year, the company instituted a number of cost and management controls which should generate improved operating results.

These include additional area supervisors who are exercising tighter control over individual store profit margins and expenditures and helping to insure more standardized and success proven management procedures.

"Also, our computerized accounting and inventory system is full operational supplying management with sophisticated, current information on which to base merchandising strategy and maximize profits," stated Mr. Howard.

Howard-Gibco currently has two stores under construction, which will give the company 30 stores in five states.

Things Got a Little Sticky

GARDEN CITY, Kan. (AP) — Things got a little sticky when a molasses tank truck overturned about 10 miles west of Garden City on U.S. 83.

Highway patrol troopers said they were thankful that most of the molasses ran into a ditch rather than onto the highway.

The driver, Max D. Cochran, 33, suffered only minor injuries. He said he lost control of the truck when a tire blew out.

Warnock Has to Post Bond by 5 p.m.

LITTLE ROCK (AP) — John Norman Warnock of Camden, attorney for the Watson Chapel School Board, has until 5 p.m. today to pay a $500 fine for civil contempt and certify that he will refrain from making public statements which tend to encourage difiance of desegregation of the Watson Chapel schools.

If Warnock does not comply, the court may imprison him and fine him $350 a day until he does comply.

Federal Judge Oren Harris issued the order Tuesday. He cited Warnock for contempt for making statements to the press, television reporters and participating in and arranging public rallies in defiance of the court's orders.

Warnock said in Tuesday's hearing that he believed his constitutional rights of free speech were being violated.

Loan Approved for Norphlet

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Farmers Home Administration has approved a $64,700 loan to the city of Norphlet for extension of the city's sewer system and upgrading of the central water supply system. Rep. David Pryor, D-Ark., made the announcement Thursday.

Oakland Athletics

American League—West

Reggie Jackson

Sal Bando

PROSPECTUS: A's have been floundering in recent years, but have too much talent to continue that way. Dick Williams, a disciplinarian, may not be the answer, as far as a few players are concerned, but he did bring the Boston Red Sox a pennant in 1967. He has just as much talent on this team—maybe even more.

PITCHING—Jim (Catfish) Hunter, Chuck Dobson and John (Blue Moon) Odom won 18, 16 and nine, respectively. Odom had a sore arm which negated a good start. Rookie Vida Blue pitched a no-hitter after being called up, and will be No. 4 starter. Paul Lindblad (8-2) and Jim Roland available for spot duty. Bullpen in good shape with Diego Segui (10-10), Bob Locker and Rollie Fingers. Rating: B+

CATCHING—Tossup between Gene Tenace, who hit .305 with seven homers as rookie in 38 games last year, and Dave Duncan, who hit .259. Rating: C

INFIELD—Don Mincher (27 homers, 74 RBIs) is at first, Bert Campaneris (.279 with 22 home runs, 64 RBIs and 42 stolen bases) is at short stop, and Sal Bando (.263 with 20 homers and 75 RBIs) is at third. Only weak spot is at second base, where Dick Green, usually an adequate but not spectacular hitter, fell off to .190 last season. John Donaldson could oust him. Rating: B

OUTFIELD—Reggie Jackson, despite all his off-the-field problems, still hit 23 home runs last year and drove in 66. If he and Charley Finley, A's owner, stop arguing, Jackson could happily continue his pursuit of Ruth and Maris, and perhaps beat them both. Others in outfield are Rick Monday (.290 with 10 homers) and Felipe Alou (.271 with 55 RBIs). Joe Rudi (.309 with 11 homers) is utilityman. Rating: A

ROOKIES TO WATCH—A's will scour farm teams for prospect at second base. None in sight as yet.

Predicted Finish: 1st in West
